

FACTSHEET

CASE MANAGEMENT SOCIETY OF SINGAPORE (CMSS)

The practice of Case Management in Singapore has existed since the mid-1990s. Case Managers are responsible for implementing case management practices/programmes that entail close collaboration among disciplinary teams and coordination of services in health and social care sectors.

2 The number of health and social care professionals practising Case Management has grown over the years. The setting up of a national platform – Case Management Society of Singapore - is timely and will meet the growing demand for support and information about Case Management.

3 The Society aims to promote interest, knowledge and standards in Case Management. It is the platform for practitioners, service providers and funding bodies to discuss and address challenges faced in Case Management.

4 CMSS' membership is open to all health and social care professionals who have interest or are actively practising Case Management in the acute care, primary care, Intermediate and Long-Term Care (ILTC), and social care settings.

5 The success of CMSS will depend on the commitment and dedication of its members. On its part, CMSS is committed to provide its members with opportunities to practise their skills and maximise their talents as communicators, problem solvers and visionaries/innovators.

6 The Society has the support of the Agency for Integrated Care (AIC), who initiated the establishment of CMSS to unify Case Managers from different care settings and to promote their cause.

7 CMSS was registered in May 2011 with the Registry of Societies and it presently has 142 members registered. The Society has a dedicated website (www.casemanagement.sg).
